(Special By Scripps-Mellae.) St. Louis, May 19.—Important evidence has been brought to light regarding the bribe indulged in by the Missouri legislature in the past few years. The Grand jury now has considerable evidence which shows large money bribes.

$250,000 Is Spent It is asserted on good authority, that during the legislature of 1890 and 1891 over a quarter of a million dollars was used to secure the passage, permitting the consolidation of the St. Louis street car lines.

MAY HAVE CLEW TO MURDERER

Prisoner in Michigan May Be Slayer of Bank Clerk at Westville, Ind.

Suspicion has fastened upon Ryan because of a gunshot wound in his leg, which the doctors say must have been inflicted about the time of Reynolds' murder and also because the three men now in jail answer closely to the description of three strangers who were seen in Westville the day before the hold-up and murder.

RUSSIAN ABSORPTION INJURES AMERICANS

Agent for Cotton Mills Complains That United States Merchants Are Being Deprived of Market.

Peking, May 19.—The Chinese government, in answer to further representations of United States Minister Conger and the Japanese minister, has again pointed out the impossibility of including in the commercial treaties the opening to trade of Manchoorian towns, on account of Russian opposition. The American minister proposes that China open Mukden, Harbin, and a small port at the mouth of the Yalu river.

C. C. Baldwin of New York, a representative of the Southern cotton mills, who has investigated the trade conditions in Manchooria, reports that the American cotton trade was increasing enormously until recently, when the Russians began to exert pressure upon the Chinese, amounting to coercion, for second orders for Russian firms, amounting to 800,000 bales of goods, which otherwise would have gone to America.

Mr. Baldwin says the foreign firms complain bitterly of the difficulty of conducting business under the Russian administration, and he believes that unless Russian absorption of Manchooria is checked the United States will be deprived of a most promising market for cottons within a few years.

GOV. YATES SIGNS THE MUELLER BILL

Warns Chicago Council That He Will Call Special Session If Improper Franchise Is Granted.

Springfield, Ill., May 19.—The Mueller bill is a law. It was approved by Gov. Yates at ten minutes of 10 o'clock last night. One of the governor's secretaries, Mr. Vredenburg, left the executive mansion post haste for the secretary of state's office at once and filed it with Mr. Hill, an employee of that office, who is legally qualified to receive it.

With the bill Gov. Yates filed a message of 7,000 or 8,000 words, in which he gives his views on the questions raised for and against the measure, and discusses it from its various aspects.

Gov. Yates, in the message, declares that the bill is bad and should be vetoed. He asserts plainly that he would veto it if the legislature was in session. He says, however, that he is confident the council and people of Chicago will not take advantage of the bad features of the measure. He asserts positively that if the city council of Chicago in 1903 grants an improper franchise he will within twenty-four hours convene the legislature in special session for the purpose of repealing the law.

GERMANS HARD TO COMPLIMENT

Even Take Offense When Told That Their Navy is the Best in the World.

Berlin, May 19.—The Tageblatt tonight contains a signed article by Count von Reventlow, in reply to the statement made by Rear Admiral Melville, chief engineer of the United States navy, before the Engineers' club of Philadelphia about two weeks ago, to the effect that the battleships of the German navy were the best in the world.

Count von Reventlow, whose criticisms of Admiral Dewey's remarks about the German warships some time ago attracted considerable attention, says the assertion made by Rear Admiral Melville that the German warships were the best in the world must be taken "with a grain of salt," for the reason that he (Melville) can know no more about the German engines and boilers than the Germans know about foreign engines and boilers.

The count expresses the opinion, however, that with regard to the construction of ships the Americans are superior to the Germans. The Americans, he believes, are also ahead in the matter of armor and guns. The tone of the article is ungracious, denying most of Rear Admiral Melville's assertions and rejecting his commendations of the German fighting ships. The count grants, however, that Rear Admiral Melville's complimentary references to the German warships may be regarded as satisfactory, as they show a desire to repair the harm done by Admiral Dewey in his interview, although he says it is quite clear that the purpose of Melville in praising the German navy was only to excite his own countrymen to improve and increase America's fleet.

PRIMARY BILL WAS ACCEPTED

Conservatives Win in the Contest with Administration Over Referendum Section.

GIVE IN AT LAST

By a Vote of 79 to 4, the Assembly Sent the Bill Back to the Senate.

(Special to The Gazette.) Madison, Wis., May 19.—Primary elections will become law in Wisconsin with the approval of the people at the general election in 1904. This is the outcome of the legislative contest, and is greeted by both conservatives and LaFolletteites as a happy solution of the matter.

Ray's Amendment This resolution was reached through an amendment offered by Bradford when the bill came up in Assembly as special order today on the question of adopting Ray's resolution that assembly recede from its refusal to concur in the senate amendment by providing for a referendum of the clause of the bill applying to the legislative officers. Bradford said he would meet senate more than half way and attach the referendum to the entire bill. Ray accepted the amendment; Wallich, Cowling and other conservatives approved it.

Administration Side Andrews of the administration leaders gave reasons for La Follette men's approval of the referendum bill saying if the referendum was attached on one clause of it only the efforts of opposition would be concentrated in defeating it. After a discussion an amendment was adopted, ayes 79, noes 4, all votes against it being by democrats, Benson, Hannifin, Maldenaur and Rakow. The amendment as amended was then concurred in and bill sent back to senate, where there is no question but that bill will be concurred in, Senator Whitehead, conservative leader, saying bill is acceptable in the present form.

The Provisions It provides for submission of Andrews bill to vote of people at the general election in the fall of 1904 to take effect immediately upon such approval. The joint resolution passed both houses providing for the final adjournment of the legislature next Saturday, May 23, business to conclude at noon tomorrow.

Mayor Todd said today: I propose to reduce the city pay roll by cutting off twenty or twenty-five names soon. They can be spared, and while I am already I propose to practice wise economy."

PRESIDENT GOMPERS TALKS TO EMPLOYERS

Labor Leader Urges Them to Organize, Saying It Would Tend to Prevent Trouble.

Washington, May 19.—President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor is an advocate of the organization of employers.

"Employers will find it to their advantage to be organized," said Mr. Gompers, "and not only this, but to deal with organized labor. The movement to form unions among the business men will tend rather to prevent conflict than to promote trouble. Organized employers will be better able to understand the demands of organized labor and to meet these demands without friction."

"There has been much hot talk about the increasing demands of labor. My experience has taught me not to be an alarmist."

CRUSHER PLANT TO BE CLOSED

COUNCIL SO DECIDED AT LAST NIGHT'S MEETING.
SUBJECT WISELY DISCUSSED

The Entire Council Seems to Understand Matters as They Really Are.

Crusher plant closed for present;
street commissioner ordered to repair and protect machinery.

Bridge question opened. City does not own a good bridge. Prices to be secured on a new steel bridge for Court street; Court street bridge declared unsafe.

George McKee reappointed a member of the police and fire commission.
City hall provided with stars and stripes.

Two ordinances introduced, one to repeal trench-bushing ordinance passed last week and one to take its place; referred to judiciary committee.

Action to fix municipal court room rent.

Lease of city storage lot to be terminated.

Crusher Question Settled
When the common council met in special meeting last evening, after having individually inspected the city crusher plant which has proved a white elephant during the past months there was unanimity of opinion as to the proper measures to be taken. The property was declared very valuable but in the extreme case is disrepair. It was believed that the only thing which could be done would be to board up the boiler house, cover and protect the machinery so as to preserve it, dismiss the watchman, and store the brasses and belts in the city hall. A motion was passed directing the street commissioner to carry out this program.

Aldermen Lowell, Sale, and Schwartz, and Street Commissioner Watson reported to the council on the condition in which they had found the plant. About $225 would be needed to repair the property. In case it was put into operation at once it was doubtful whether enough stone remained within the lease to keep it going until the expiration of the lease June 20, 1904. Mr. Barron would not reduce the rental of $300 a year because he believed that the figure had been too low in the first place, and his roads had suffered through the lease. Hand crushed rock could be used for repair jobs.
Pleasant street had been built by hand thirty-five years ago and was still in good condition.

It was evident that it would be a costly proposition whatever was done but the odds seemed to favor leaving the plant idle as there was no immediate demand for a great quantity of crushed stone, and one of the bins at the crusher is now piled with stone ready for street repair work. The motion which received the assent of the aldermen was made by Ald. Lowell.

Bridges in Bad Shape

According to a report given by Assistant Street Commissioner Ross Janesville does not own a sound bridge, unless it be the one on Milwaukee street. The Court street bridge was especially condemned.
The caps were so rotted that they could not hold their weight. At least twelve piles were rotted and the block covering unfit for use. He placed the total expense of repairing the bridge at nearly five thousand dollars. The cost of repairing the Milwaukee street bridge last year approximated that figure.

Mr. Worden, a representative of a Milwaukee firm of bridge builders, addressed the council on the cost of a steel bridge. He quoted a price of about $17,000 for the superstructure, which would include three 6-foot spans, with all of the metal work below the level of the road. Buckle-plate flooring would be used, covered with a concrete paving. A steel hand rail and asphalt sidewalks would be employed. The cost might be reduced by using a lighter weight bridge. This bridge would stand the heaviest city traffic and with painting at reasonable intervals would be practically indestructible.

Mr. Worden had not figured on the substructure, which would include two concrete abutments and two piers of the same material, but thought that the entire bridge should not cost more than $20,000. The council gave instructions that figures be secured on a new bridge and for repairing the present structure.

Ald. Lowell, who had personally examined the bridge, was very anxious that the bridge be closed to protect the city against accident. He had seen how rotten the beams of the bridge were and did not believe that the structure was in condition for traffic. It was finally decided to instruct the street commissioner to effect railings which would keep teams in the center of the bridge and to plank the space which would thus be travelled.

General Business Transacted
The Riverview park bridges in the Third ward and the Lovejoy culvert in the First ward were both reported in very bad condition. Before anything was done in regard to the Riverview park bridges it was decided to learn whether or not they were city or private bridges.

The appointment of George M. Mc-Key to succeed himself as a member of the police and fire commission was confirmed by the council.

The municipal court rental, which has never been adjusted, was left to a committee consisting of the city attorney and Aldermen Lowell and Matheson, who will meet with the county board.

Ald. Matheson introduced two ordinances. One of them repeals the ordinance passed last week making it necessary to flush all trenches and ditches with water before refilling them. The other is designed as a substitute for it, and makes provisions which will protect the city.

Both ordinances were referred to the judiciary committee.
It was decided to end the lease of the lot which is used for the storage of city property, and is practically useless.

OLD, OLD STORY OFTEN REPEATED

Hastings Stock Company Has Troubles of Its Own, and Goes Back Home.

The old familiar tragedy of a show gone broke has been enacted in this city in the past few days, and the curtain has just rung down on the last act. The cast was made up of members of the Hastings Stock company—all but two or three, who skipped out soon after the curtain rose, leaving the rest of the company to play it out to an audience of dyspep-tic critics. And there were no comedy lines to lighten the gloomy plot.
It was the old story of a company that could not make good toward the finish of the season which had been punctuated with hard luck. The night that they first played in this city, a couple of their members silently stole to the depot and boarded the first train. The others remained to play out the engagement, but with less than mediocre success. When Saturday night's performance was ended, there was no dodging the bitter realization of poverty, so far as the immediate situation was concerned.

Miss Hastings the proprietor of the company had a fund of money in her own name, but none of it was at hand.
Every cent of ready money had been spent, nothing had been realized on the three day's stand in this city.
Hotel bills and car fare stared the management in the face.

A booking had been made for this week, beginning with last night, but it was folly to think of trying to fill the time. Besides there was no money to buy tickets, to say nothing of guarding against further losses which were almost inevitable.

By dint of handling over her jewelry and some other valuables as security, Miss Hastings succeeded in standing off the hotel proprietor, and Sunday, the plucky little woman left for Chicago to raise enough coin to get her out of Janesville. Perhaps her fellow Theatians didn't watch for the telegraph messenger as they sat in the various hostleries in which they had taken refuge when obliged to leave their first abiding place.

The situation was so serious that four of them slept in the opera house Sunday night.

Late yesterday afternoon, the looked for telegram came, announcing that transportation was provided and all was well. The seven o'clock car for Chicago last evening saw 7 weary and down hearted actors shaking the dust of Janesville from their feet, and setting their faces toward the Windy City where they hope that fickle fortune may once again smile upon them.

CADETS DRILLED BEFORE JUDGES

Christ Church Soldier Boys Made a Fine Showing Last Evening.

Sergeant Fred Hutchinson of the Christ church cadets company was promoted to 2nd lieutenant last evening. There were two non-commissioned officers eligible to the position and a competitive drill was held at the regular drill time in the hall last Monday night.

Captain B. M. Palmer had the men each take charge of one company and go through a short drill. The judges were instructed that the man who handled the company the best should receive the appointment.

The judges were Captain C. F. Achterberg, C. C. McLean, George K. Parrish.

Reverend A. H. Barrington announced the decision and complimented the men on the showing made. The company has been asked to take part in the parade Decoration day.

think it ought to be leveled and the Spring Brook people were glad to the band actually got on the road and disappeared. Their joy was short-lived, however, for yesterday a new tribe put in an appearance with seven wagons and a complete outfit, evidently intending to stay.

Saturday night a collision was narrowly averted at the corner of Mc-Kee boulevard and Eastern avenue.
A gentleman driving west on the turn his horse off the tracks.

MEXICO CITY AS IT REALLY APPEARS

JANESVILLE PARTY HAVING A GLORIOUS TIME THERE.

WONDERFUL MOUNTAIN TRIP

Battle of the Flowers and Other Sights That Have Never Been Equalled.

Mexico City, May 11.

To Editor Gazette:—
We left San Luis Potosi Friday p.
m. on the narrow gauge of the Mexican National. After leaving San Miguel, the conductor invited us a-out on the platform of the car to view the terrific scenery of the canyon of San Miguel by moonlight. It was a wonderful sight. On the one side the solid wall of rock rising hundreds of feet and so close to the car that one could touch it with our hands. At times the train would creep around these perpendicular walls at such short curves that the engine and nearly all the baggage coach were out of sight though we were in the third coach from the engine. On the other side of the train one could look down into the deep, shadowy chasms and snigger at the thought of the train leaving the track and pitching down the steep incline so close to the track, as one freight train had done recently. At one place they are tunneling through the mountain, a distance of 300 meters.
A beautiful stream goes tumbling through the gorge and on to the ocean.

At Ocuilac, just this side of Toluca, the scenery was even grander and more sublime. We kept rising and wending around the ledges of the mountain until we had risen 10,000 feet and near Salazar, we were 10, 000 feet above sea level, and there were peaks yet above us covered with pine trees, which seemed to be hanging to their places by main force, so steep were the mountain sides. Then we descended toward Mexico City.
The beautiful Magway (pulque) fields the chasms and the peaks were a perfect panorama of loveliness. In the morning sun. We took many views here. I noted at Dos Rios (two rivers) a mountain Indian village, the very short stature of the natives about 4 ft. We arrived in Mexico City at 10:30 Saturday after 4 days from Chicago.

We are in a new world here. After reaching our hotel, the Irtulide, we telegraphed to Vera Cruz to find out when our boat would leave for Fron-tera. Mr. E. F. Carpenter, our captain, and judicial friend from Janesville got into a Spanish pow-wow with a messenger boy, the result of which you know.

We visited the Cathedrals here, which are indeed very old and very beautiful inside, enriched with old paintings of rare value and with gold and silver shrines and trimmings.
The cathedral of Guadalupe, 2 miles from the city is the most beautiful.
It has many rare paintings. Some of these paintings, especially in the cathedral de Mexico are nearly 25x40 feet. The dome of Guadalupe cathedral has some very beautiful paintings while the ceiling is a deep blue set with gold stars (not painted or gilded). The railings above the altar contains 25 tons of solid silver. It is 300 years old, while the original chapel on the bluff above is 400 years old. There is a spring or fountain of perpetual youth in a small chapel near the cathedral below, from which bubbles up considerable stream of water.
If you drink it, you live forever. Of course we drank it, and now our friends can hand down by us to all generations, the history of their ancestry by word of mouth. It may be hard on their descendants, but we are in for it now. One more incident was the battle of flowers, of all the profusion of exquisite decoration with the beautiful flowers, foliage, ferns, etc., with streamers of ribbon,
I never saw the like, and the City of Mexico can surely boast of the finest horses, and extravagant ornaments of any in the world. Over 3000 carriages in line, besides automobiles, and bicycles in abundance. Many of these turnouts were one solid mass of roses and foliage. We took pictures of the best ones. During the latter part of the parade, which lasted 4 hours, the battle of flowers began, and the people on the streets and in the carriages kept up a continual shower of flowers, and confetti which they threw at each other while they passed. In the afternoon the parade was transformed to the castle of Chapultepec, President Diaz's summer home, and the battle still continued about the grounds. We got a good view of the castle and the people. In the eve, the promenade continued in the city and fully 5,000 vehicles, three to five abreast could be seen from our hotel. It looked like a solid mass of lights down the street for two miles. A sign long to be remembered, indeed.

English Journalism Journalism in England is not what it is in America. Two new London reporters were sent out by the editor of a newspaper to a suburb to "write up" the burning of an orphan asylum.

Late that night, when the news editor was wondering why no "copy" about the fire was coming by wire, a telegraph messenger rushed in and handed him a message.

"We are here. What shall we do?" It was signed by the names of the two men sent to "write up" the fire.
The news editor made a few strong remarks, then he wrote on a telegraph form this brief message:
"Find out where the fire is hottest,
and jump in."—Exchange.

COUNTY NEEDS MANY TEACHERS

SUPERINTENDENTS HAVE BUSY SUMMER MONTHS COMING.

CHANGE INSTITUTE DATES

Must Begin Work Early, to Close Before the Fall Term of School.

Opens.

Efforts are being made to shift the date of the summer teachers' institute from July 13 to July 6. This is being done with the purpose of making it possible to hold a four weeks' review school at the close of the two weeks' institute and close up the teachers' examinations before the fall term of the county schools begins. The present available supply of teachers is extremely scanty and stringent measures must be taken or several schools will go teacherless next fall.

Many Teachers Leaving
For the past four or five weeks Supt. Hemingway of the First district has been canvassing the schools in his district and has found that between twenty-five and thirty-five percent of the teachers will leave at the close of the year. To fill this void only about eight graduates of the high schools of Edgerton, Evansville, and Janesville have expressed their desire to take up the life of the pedagogy in the district schools. Beloit is in Supt. Antislade's district, but Mr. Hemingway does not believe that conditions are any more promising there.

Vacancies Everywhere
To fill these vacancies will require strenuous efforts on the part of the superintendents, who have two of the busiest months of the year facing them. The conductors of the institute in this city are to be Profs. G. C. Shuts of the Whitewater Normal school, and E. C. Persh of the Platteville Normal, and Supt. H. S. Yonker of Grand Rapids.

LOCAL PERSONAL PICK-UPS

Honor Janesville Boy: Members of the famous Burlington, Wis., band have paid George L. Hatch of this city a compliment by engaging him as their soloist at three concerts, to be held in this state this month. The first concert will be given in the city of Burlington, on May 25th, and will take place in the opera house. Mr. Hatch will sing and play his own accompaniment on the harp. Last year he was engaged by this same band and it is quite evident from the Burlington press notices that Mr. Hatch made warm friends while in their city.

That Awful Smile: Certain well known society people in this city have parted with about $1000 and all on account of the recent visit of an Armenian who arrived at a local hotel last week, with several boxes of imported rings, valued at several thousand dollars. One well known third ward lady purchased one small ring for which she paid $2.00.

Alderman Connell has returned from a week's visit at Louisville, Ky. His mother will remain in Louisville for a month or six weeks longer.

Girls' Double Quartette: The girls' double quartette is preparing to furnish a part of the music during the commencement exercises. The quartette was organized recently and includes the Misses Isabel Smith, Daisy MacLean, Clara Jones, Cora Putnam, Ruby Keller, Agnes Greibel, Lucy Fox and Grace Winterroth.

K. of C. Dance Tonight: The Knights of Columbus will give a dance for their members at Central hall this evening. A visiting delegation from the Rockford order is expected. Several members of the local council of partaken of the hospitality of the Forest City council in the past and it is hoped to be able to repay the courtesy this evening.

Ready for Commencement: It is expected that the members of the graduating class of the high school will have their respected parts decided by the end of the week.

Rubbish in Street: Complaint has been brought against Joseph Johnson for throwing ashes in the street.

Incendiarism Charged: An examination was held before Judge Filfield this morning in the case against Alfred F. Wheeler, a La Prairie youngster who is charged with maliciously setting fire to a straw stack.

For Salvation Army: Collection boxes have been placed in public places in the city for the Salvation army, to further the work of the organization.

EFFIE ELISER-A CLEVER ACTRESS

Gave an Artistic Rendering of "When Knighthood Was in Flower," Last Night.

Not a twinge of disappointment was occasioned by the much-heralded Julia Marlowe production of "When Knighthood Was in Flower." Miss Effie Eliser inheriting the gaudy staging and the doublet and hose which so brilliantly set forth the charms of her eminent predecessor. It was dignified portrayal which Miss Eliser gave of the Princess Mary Tudor, and one which derived its strength from absolute self control and expression.

Perhaps no production on the local stage this season has magnified the part of the star as did the presentation of this Charles Major romance at the Myers Grand last night. Miss Eliser was always the dominant figure of the stage. Her role was exacting mainly in its continuity. She was seldom relieved from the position of preeminence by another member of the company. But she was not required to run a long gamut of moods. There was barely a ripple on the surface of the serenity which marked her art.

Frank Perley has given Miss Eliser an exceptional support. Walter Seymour, as Charles Brandon, was powerful and applause-meriting, especially when the action became intense. As King Henry VIII C. J. Gilney showed a painstaking and careful dramatic method. The remainder of the cast was distinguished more by the absence of crudeness and lack of polish than by more positive virtues.

A cordial reception was given the orchestra numbers, the musicians outdoing themselves before appreciative hearers. It is daily becoming more apparent how great a pleasure the new orchestra is to the audience of an evening at the opera house.

ST. PAUL ROAD'S LANDSCAPE GARDENER IS IN THE CITY.

PLANTS WILL BE PUT OUT

Mrs. A. C. McCrey, of Chicago, Holds the Novel Position for a Woman.

Mrs. A. E. McCrey of Chicago, is in the city for a few days in charge of beautifying the park adjoining the St. Paul depot. Mrs. McCrey has the distinction of being the first woman landscape gardener in America. She is employed by the St. Paul line and has entire charge, not only in the laying out of parks, but improving and making more artistic, the entire right of way. Also the painting and decorating all depots and buildings.

Hardy Plants
In decorating lawns and parks, Mrs. McCrey believes in going back to first principles instead of setting out in fancy shaped beds, geraniums and other flowers that must be planted anew each year and taken care of. She plans a succession of many kind of hardy plants and bushes that are in bloom at different times during the summer. She is also endeavoring to interest people who own property adjoining the railroad to keep things clean and in order. "Most people seem to think," said Mrs. McCrey, "that railroad property is very convenient ground to throw rubbish of all descriptions." She also said that if everyone would keep their own grounds in order and did not throw waste on other people's property, so much cleaning would not be necessary.

Hundreds of Plants
Mrs. McCrey is much interested in civic improvements. Several hundred plants are now being set out in the little parks around the St. Paul depot. When the plan is finished, the station grounds will look very pretty.

ASSEMBLY TURNS DOWN THE BILL

THE ROCK COUNTY FAIR APPROPRIATION IS LOST.

PLANS OF THE DRIVING CLUB

Interest Taken in That Matter May Help the Fair Plan Along.

By the defeat of the appropriation bill in the assembly by which Rock county was to have received a bonus from the state to have a county fair, the last hope of the revival of the Rock county fair seems to have gone through. As one prominent promoter of the plan said today, "It was a pleasant dream while it lasted, but I woke up too soon to suit me."

Defeat Bill
The bill has successfully been engineered through the senate by Senator Whitehead but only to meet its death in the assembly. A sudden storm of cutting down appropriations came across the state legislature and Rock county bill was doomed to death with many others.

Ends Plans
This will probably end all talk of re-establishing the fair on the basis that was proposed, but will in no wise effect the gentleman's driving club recently organized which plans to hold matinee meets during the summer and early fall.

Outside Interest
Considerable outside interest has been shown in this club and the Chicago Chronicle recently published an account of its formation with pictures of prominent members and officials.

While en route last spring, Al. H. Wilson, who appears in "A Prince of Tatters" under the management of Chas. H. Yale, and Sidney R. Ellis, the author of the play, was playing in the northern part of Wisconsin. There the play achieved success in its initial production, a critic on a leading paper in one city was completely carried away by the many points of merit in the performance and expressed himself as follows:

"Al H. Wilson as Prince Hugo Von Reppert in Sidney R. Ellis' chef d'oeuvre "A Prince of Tatters" was superb. He looked and acted the role of Prince Hugo in a masterly manner, bringing out the hidden beauties of the text gloriously. Al H. Wilson is the prince of comedians the prince of singers, the prince of handsome men, the prince of good fellows; in fact he is all prince and a yard wide." Mr. Wilson is here on Friday night.

The Appomattox apple tree fades and withers from time to time but never dies, says the Richmond Times Dispatch. It is a perennial. Here it is blooming out again. An old soldier presented to the university of Georgia a piece of wood which he said came from the tree beneath which Lee surrendered to Grant, stating that he was present at the time the tree was cut down and took a portion of it to preserve as a relic.

"Mr. Sylvannus Morris, Athens, Ga. Dear Professor: Yours received. Both Gen. Longstreet and myself were present in the room when the formal surrender took place at Appomattox, as was also Col. Marshall. The account therefore, which states that only Col. Marshall was present is incorrect. The apple tree incident is a romance. No surrender took place except in the room of the McLean house. The only connection of the surrender with the apple tree is the fact that Gen. Lee and Grant met there for a few moments and agreed upon a place for a formal meeting. Probably the most appropriate prescription you could place on the piece of wood would be to the effect that it was taken from the apple tree near which Gen. Lee and Grant met prior to the surrender. With best wishes, I am sincerely yours, J. B. GORDON."

New York.—There is a striking change of feeling on the stock exchange. Twelve months ago we were near the crest of a wave of speculation. Six months ago we were on the verge of despair and in fear of a crisis or panic. Now we are settling down to more normal conditions; dependency has ceased, and confidence should soon commence to regain its accustomed sway. The reasons for this are easy to discover; liquidation, improved monetary conditions and brilliant wheat crop prospects being the principal causes. The speculative leaders, however, apparently realize that the market requires further rest and therefore remain inactive at present. The present supply of securities, including the new issues, is really all the market can stand under existing conditions. Nevertheless, as just stated, there has been a wonderfully favorable change of temper in Wall street, which is justified by new conditions, and which if allowed to develop on natural lines without artificial interference should later on lead to improvement in values.

Some uneasiness was shown at gold exports, which are usual at this season, and have not yet been sufficiently large to cause alarm. The European markets are generally well supplied with funds; and as the financial situation in England, France and Germany is improving rather than otherwise there seems to be no occasion to expect large demands upon us for gold.

mand for some manufactured articles. In the crop situation there is little change. The season is very backward for cotton, corn and other crops, which can hardly be considered favorable; but it is early, and there is plenty of time in which to recover. A bumper wheat crop is practically certain and this is a factor of much importance, especially to railroads in the wheat belt, some of which have shown an undercurrent of strength in the stock market in consequence.

The money market is easy, as usual this season, when legitimate demands are at a minimum. The steady expansion in loans during the last few weeks is hardly a welcome feature, and the bank reverses, though larger than for the past two years at this time, are comparatively low. Still, the supply of funds has been somewhat augmented by funding operations, and the withdrawal of trust companies from the clearing house agreement will prevent the locking up of 20 to 40 millions for reserve account. If all the companies take the same course as it is rumored they will. It will be remembered that about 15 millions was required on June 1 which will not now be withdrawn.

Speculation is dormant. Active fluctuations are mostly confined to specialties and until crops are fully assured it is likely a traders' market making good stocks a purchase on these sharp declines and equally good sales on the rallies. From present appearances we are likely to have just such a market for some time to come, until money or crop prospects warrant a change of operations. The market, however, is subject to the control of the big operators, and should their plans or deals call for more activity such may easily come when least expected. Fortunately, there is less reason to apprehend tight money this fall than there was on January 1st.

The enormous applications for the Transvaal loan, making allowance for over-subscriptions, show a surprising abundance of capital abroad awaiting investment. Money is known to be very plentiful in Paris, and the strain in Germany has been greatly relieved by the improved industrial situation. The most likely cause of gold exports is the falling off in merchandise exports, which in April left us a trade allowance of only £21,800,000, against £33,300,000, in April, 1902 and £41,000,000 in 1901. This continued shrinking trade balance is one of the most unwelcome signs of the times, and cannot be overlooked. For the ten months of the fiscal year the excess of exports was the smallest in several years, being only 355 millions, against 435 millions in 1901 and 584 millions in 1900. This shifting of the balances is entirely due to heavy importations. Our exports are almost up to record figures, while imports have far surpassed all previous levels in consequence of the great activity at home and of our temporary inability to supply the de-

The attitude of the public towards investments is likely to become more hopeful. Thinking powers are at last now brought more into use, and purchases hereafter will be of an entirely different character from the recklessly indiscriminate ventures of 1901 and the early part of 1902. Such an exercise of judgment will do more even than the Sherman law to check unwise combinations, and in it lies the hope of an improved market for standard, uninfated securities. That there is money awaiting safe investment in considerable amounts is attested by the oversubscription ten times of the latest New York city loan of $2,000,000. HENRY CLEWS.

One of the essentials of the happy homes of to-day is a fund of information as to right living and the best methods of promoting health and happiness. With proper knowledge, each hour of recreation, of enjoyment and of effort may be made to contribute to that end and are of not less value than the using of the most wholesome foods and the selecting of the best medicinal agents when needed. With the well-informed, medicinal agents are used only when nature needs assistance and while the importance of cleansing the system effectually, when bilious or constipated, has long been known, yet until within recent years it was necessary to resort to oils, salts, extracts of roots, barks and other cathartics which were found to be objectionable and to call for constantly increased quantities.

Then physicians having learned that the most excellent laxative and carminative principles were to be found in certain plants, principally in the leaves, the California Fig Syrup Co. discovered a method of obtaining such principles in their purest condition and of presenting them with pleasant and refreshing liquids in the form most acceptable to the system and the remedy became known as—Syrup of Figs—as figs were used, with the plants, in making it, because of their agreeable taste.

This excellent remedy is now rapidly coming into universal use as the best of family laxatives, because it is simple and wholesome and cleanses and sweetens the system effectually without disturbing the natural functions and without unpleasant after effects and its use may be discontinued when it is no longer required.

All who would enjoy good health and its blessings should remember that it is the one remedy which physicians and parents well-informed approve and recommend and use and which they and their little ones alike enjoy, because of its pleasant flavor, its gentle action and its beneficial effects.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all reliable druggists, at the regular price of fifty cents per bottle, in original packages only, having the name of the remedy—Syrup of Figs—and the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package.

Paine's Celery Compound

The prompt, effective and honest results that are always obtained by the users of Paine's Celery Compound call forth the grateful and unstinted praise of clergymen of all denominations. In every parish and district of our land, clergymen are quietly but surely spreading the joyful intelligence that Paine's Celery Compound banishes ill health and makes sick people well.

"Like men and women of other professions and in the ordinary callings of life, church and ministers are victims of the same ailments and diseases. When oppressed by sufferings and agonies, it is cheering to note that our clergymen have implicit confidence and faith in Dr. Paine's life giving prescription.

Paine's Celery Compound. Rev. A. L. Brantley, Summerville, Ga., tells how he was raised from a condition of suffering and great danger:—

"Before using Paine's Celery Compound I was continually suffering with sick and nervous headache, and it was a common occurrence for me to sleep little or none at night. Often have I rose in the morning, with a severe headache and an inactive mind, prostrated with nervousness from loss of sleep. Now I can sleep well at night, have an active mind and can study ten hours a day while before I could study but a short while at a time. I certainly feel grateful for such a medicine as Paine's Celery Compound."

Natural Paint Mine

Professor William H. Holmes, chief of the bureau of ethnology, has returned from a trip to an aboriginal mine near Leslie, Mo. Professor Holmes says the mine is the most remarkable yet discovered in this country. He has examined at different times twelve similar workings.

Professor Holmes said today, in speaking of the mine: "It was discovered by men who are working the iron mines of Lewis Cox, near Leslie. The ore is black hematite, almost as hard as iron itself. The miners came upon ancient tunnelings and pittings.

The stratum of ore lay beneath the surface of a broad valley and in one place an area of 2,000 by 3,000 feet. The stratum was literally honeycombed with these ancient galleries. They were driven through the hardest part of the ore, and in places were seven or eight feet high by five in width. The stone sledge hammers which the miners in passing to and from their work had picked up in the ancient working lay in heaps.

"At first I was completely at a loss to know what method or stone the prehistoric miners had sought when they drove these galleries through the hardest of hard iron ore with no tools other than their stone sledges.

"I knew the American aborigines were in the stone age up to the coming of the whites, and no iron implements or weapons had ever been discovered by any mound or grave of the pre-Columbian period. So that, therefore I was shut out from assuming that they were after ore.

"I began looking about over the neighborhood, thinking perhaps they used this hematite as material for flint and arrowheads, but soon found that here, as elsewhere over the country, the axes, arrowheads and spear points were all of flint and quartz.

"Finally I discovered that throughout this mine there were occasional large pockets of red and yellow oxide of iron. Every tribe of American Indians from the Arctic ocean to Mexico used for paint. In fact, red paint was as indispensable to the Indians as food and drink to us, and it was to procure this red oxide that they drilled the tunnels in the Cox mine.

"I have examined twelve aboriginal mines in various sections of the United States in my time, but this is by far the most extensive and wonderful that I have ever entered. The aborigines must have gathered there by thousands at times, and there is no telling how many centuries it took them to peck there way through this hematite, almost as hard as the iron itself, in reaching the pockets of red oxide."

FACTORY WORK ABOUT THE CITY

Little Dots of Interest Regarding the Doings in the Busy Sections.

The Badger State Machine Co. recently shipped four power and one hand punch and shear machines to Milwaukee and Chicago.

The Rock River Cotton Co. are digging a drain under the alley in the rear of their plant.

The Blodgett Milling Co. are thirty days behind with their orders. Their average daily output at present is four carloads of rye flour, shipped to Milwaukee and Chicago and southern points.

The Bower City Implement Co. expect a carload of Milwaukee binders and mowers by next week.

Warm weather makes the Shurcutt Ice Cream factory people glad. Their shipments on Saturday amounted to over 500 gallons. Their daily output is now from 250 to 500 gallons. This is shipped to Chicago and Prairie du Chien and other points within a hundred miles radius.

Another carload of stones for the post office has arrived. When these are in place the frieze will be ready for the balustrade.

SPARROWS NEST IN FUNNY PLACE

Choose Round House of a Railway for Their Homes, and Build Them Carefully.

Up among the rafters at the round house dozens of sparrows make their home. Why they should select such a gloomy, smoky, and noisy place for an abode is hard to tell, when they are as free to go where they please as anything living.

Everyday they may be seen darting in and out through the smoky laden air, in search of food for their young. Some nests are built on the beams directly over the engine stalls, where they have become black with soot. The little chattering birds hop around the great locomotives apparently oblivious to everything but their own affairs; not giving a thought to the roar and rattle that is going on all around them.

LAW DECISIONS FOR LAYMEN

Recent Court Decisions Will Interest the Busy Reader Very Much.

Recission of Contracts—Fraud Without Damage.

In spite of the vast amount of judicial consideration on the subject of fraud, it has apparently remained for a recent case to raise the question of whether a suit for recission on the ground of fraud may not be maintained although there is no damage to a third party. The plaintiff had made an oral agreement with his neighbor not to sell his summer residence to anyone who would use it for an improper purpose. To carry out this moral obligation, he refused to sell to the defendant. There up the latter employed an agent, who by fraudulently representing that purchase was for an unobjectionable third person, obtained a deed, and conveyed it over to the defendant. The plaintiff received his own price for the property, but in spite of the absence of damage to the plaintiff the court set aside the deed. 52 Atlantic Rep. (Conn.) 729.

Crimes—Prosecutions by Private Parties.

Under the old common law, both in England and America prosecutions for crimes were left to counsel employed by private parties, except in cases where the state was directly interested. Now, however, statutes, giving to public prosecutors exclusive control of prosecutions, except for certain minor offenses, are universal throughout the United States. An interesting question arising out of this change was recently discussed in the Montana courts. It was held that a district attorney may, during the trial, receive assistance from counsel privately employed and compensated. One judge dissented, on the ground that the private attorney represents vengeance, the state's attorney paid by the people, is expected to represent justice. 71 Pacific Rep. (Montana) 2.

Conflict of Laws—Married Woman's Contract.

A married woman, incapable of contract in Tennessee, made while a resident there, a promissory note. The note was sent by mail to a bank in Ohio, where a married woman may contract. In renewal of a note concealed to have been binding upon her. Suit was brought on the renewal note in Tennessee. Held, that although there is a good contract by law in Ohio, marriage is nevertheless a good defense in Tennessee, the contract being made at the place at which the first note it taken up. 70 Southwestern Rep. (Tennessee) 597.

Convicts—Place of Imprisonment.

A statute of the United States provides that the legislature assemble of the several territories may contract for the imprisonment of other territories and states of their convicts. The legislature of Oklahoma accordingly passed an act authorizing its governor to make a contract with the directors of the Kansas penitentiary. The petitioner, an Oklahoma convict, confined in the Kansas penitentiary, according to this arrangement, sued out a writ of habeas corpus. Held, that the writ should not be granted, and that his imprisonment was legal. 71 Pacific Rep. (Kansas) 589.

STOMACH DOSING WILL NOT CURE

Only Way to Cure Catarrh is By Breathing Hyomei

Ask any physician if catarrh is a blood disease and he will tell you that it is a diseased condition of the mucous membrane and that it cannot be cured by blood purifiers, pills, tablets or other forms of stomach dosing. The only sensible and scientific way of curing catarrh is by the use of Hyomei.

Breathed for a few minutes, four or five times a day, through an inhaler that is so small that it can be carried in the vest pocket, Hyomei will absolutely destroy all catarrhal germs and destroy the disease. Catarrh can never exist where Hyomei is used. It has a two fold action, destroying the disease germs in the air passages and lungs, and soothing and healing the inflamed mucous membrane.

For the last three months, The People's Drug Co., one of the most reliable firms in Janeville have been giving their personal guarantee with every package of Hyomei they sold, that it would effect a cure or they would return the money. They have had scores of reports of remarkable cures of both acute and chronic cases of catarrh by Hyomei; but only two people have asked for the return of their money.

The leading people of Janeville, ministers of the gospel, well known business men, and prominent lawyers are among those who have been cured by Hyomei. No other treatment has the endorsement of so many reputable people in all walks of life, as this scientific yet common sense cure for catarrh.

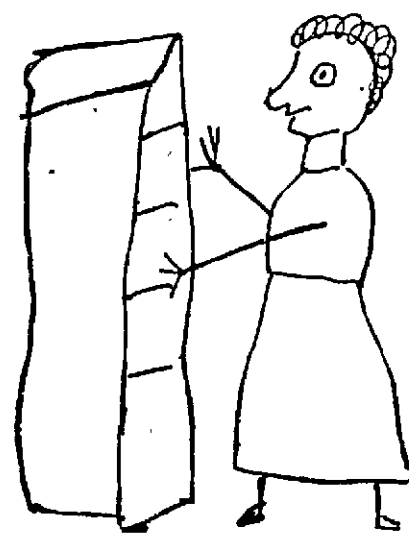

SIGN OF THE RED RAVEN

A beautiful electric sign, advertising Red Raven Splits in a downtown pharmacy has attracted considerable attention during the past week, and the proprietor on being interrogated by one of his best customers as to what the article was, said: "A Raven is an aperient water put up in galatry half pint bottles each spouts one of which is a dose. I always keep a liberal supply of Red Raven Splits on hand because my customers tell me that as a laxative and alterative, it is unequalled by any other aperient water on the market. They use it as a rule before breakfast, and find it gentle mild and sure. I never attempt to substitute for Red Raven Splits, because I know that my trade having used it, well satisfied, will be sure to return for more. The advantage of Red Raven Splits over foreign bitter waters, is not entirely in its merit as a laxative, but because it is sparkling, pleasant tasting, and as entirely agreeable as any high class table water. The price being fifteen cents makes it an ideal article for all classes of my trade.

MAUD GONNE STARTS ARIOT

SHE IS OPPOSED TO THE KING

Pushes Her Way to the Front of the Platform and Insists on Knowing Whether the Lord Mayor Will Receive Edward VII.

Dublin, May 19.—A political gathering in the Rotunda here was turned by Mrs. McBride, formerly Maud Gonne, the Irish Joan of Arc, into a Donnybrook riot, in which several persons, including J. O'Donnell, M. P., was severely hurt.

The meeting was called to support a fund for the maintenance of the Irish parliamentary party. Lord Mayor Harrington, M. P., president, and several other members of the house of commons, including John Redmond, were present. During Mr. Harrington's opening address Mrs. McBride arrived on the platform, accompanied by Edward Martineau, an extremist, who is identified with the local campaign against the reception of King Edward in Ireland.

Gaels Capture Meeting.
They were greeted with a wild outburst of cheering, which revealed that the meeting had been captured by members of the Gaelic league, which embodies the extreme section of the nationalists.

Mr. Harrington finished his speech and then called on John Redmond, whereupon Mrs. McBride imperiously pushed her way to the front of the platform and demanded that she be heard before Mr. Redmond, who had already arisen to speak. An excited discussion between Mrs. McBride and Mr. Harrington followed, while the members of the Gaelic league rose and shouted. In a few minutes the whole meeting was in an uproar. Above the din Mrs. McBride was heard to scream:

Pertinent Inquiry.
"We have come to ask whether if the king visits Ireland the lord mayor of Dublin will receive him?"

Mr. Redmond gave way to Mrs. McBride, who then announced amid interruptions that she represented the people's protection committee that had been formed to oppose the reception of the king. She wanted to know whether Mr. Harrington meant to ask the corporation to arrange an address to the king.

The lord mayor in the course of his reply said that he had never lowered the flag of Ireland and never should. There was no shadow of truth in the statement that he planned to receive the king. He added: "I'm no flunky. I hope that's enough."

Audience Is Noisy.
Mrs. McBride again demanded a definite assurance that the lord mayor would not receive the king. Mr. Harrington shouted something that was inaudible in the uproar. Mr. Redmond tried to interpose to bring before the meeting the business for which it had been called. This brought on the climax.

Women Scream.
A body of Mrs. McBride's supporters rushed toward the platform, while the remainder started to fight with sticks, chairs and hats. Chairs and other missiles flew in all directions, accompanied by the screams of women, while the peacefully disposed fled to the exits. Meanwhile Mrs. McBride and her friends left the platform.

After some minutes of rioting there came a lull and Mr. Redmond began to speak. He was constantly interrupted. Somebody shouted, "Liar!" and the storm broke out again, and the fighting being renewed.

Many Are Injured.
Numbers on both sides were severely injured in the two fights. Mr. O'Donnell was badly cut on the head and was taken to a hospital. Eventually a resolution appealing for funds was passed and the meeting dispersed. Mrs. McBride claims that she extracted a promise from Mr. Harrington that he would not receive the king. Others say they heard Mr. Harrington refuse to make a definite statement.

YOUNG BRIDE IS MURDERED

DEALS FATAL BLOW WITH CLUB

Victim's Head Is Pounded Into a Shapeless Mass and Her Body Is Covered With Bruises—Husband Finds Remains of His Wife.

(Special by Scripps-Mellae.)

Crawfordsville, Ind., May 19.—Coroner King and the other county officials are making a strong effort to clear up the mystery of the murder of Mrs. Henry M. Seward. Thus far they have been unable to get a trace of the assassin or to learn the motive for the strange crime. An inquest will be opened, however, and part of the mystery may then be explained away.

Deliberate Murder.

Mrs. Seward was the bride of a year and lived with her husband at Lena. She was beaten to death with a club, the murderer having deliberately planned her death and stolen upon her to strike the fatal blows. Before his work was done the assassin had pounded her head into a shapeless mass and bruised her body all over.

Husband Discovers Crime.

Discovery of the crime was made by Seward when he returned at 6 p. m. from a farm two miles distant, where he had been working during the day. He says that when he got home he went into the kitchen and saw that his wife had finished her baking. He stepped into the sitting room and found his wife lying face downward in a pool of blood. He ran to the nearest neighbor and gave the alarm and Coroner King came to the house about 9 o'clock.

Attack Is Sudden.

There were no signs of a struggle about the room. There was no evidence of any attempt at robbery, though the husband told Coroner King that ring had been taken from his wife's finger and his razor and shaving brush were gone. Everything, however, the coroner said, went to show that the attack had been so sudden that the woman could not make resistance.

Tramps Under Arrest.

As soon as the news of the murder spread there was great excitement and people came from every direction. The officers at all points were notified by telephone and the Greencastle police arrested five tramps who were stealing their way east. Sheriff Cooper, who is making an active investigation, says he is satisfied that the tramps had nothing to do with the crime, though three of them were seen in the vicinity of Lena that day.

New Use for Corn Oil.

The degumming of corn—that is, removing the yellow germ from the tip of each kernel—is necessary in all corn for export because the germs, when corn is in the hold of a vessel, start a fermentation which spoils the whole cargo. The product each year of this degumming is about 5,000,000 gallons of corn oil, which has heretofore been used to adulterate linseed oil, but now a process for clarifying it and removing its peculiar odor brings it into competition with olive and cottonseed oil.

ANXIOUS TO ROW FRESHMEN

St. John's Academy Pushing Negotiations for Race Next Month.

Delafield, Wis., May 19.—Frederick J. Woodhead, coach of the crew of St. John's Military academy, went to Madison to consult with Coach O'Dea of Wisconsin concerning the Wisconsin freshmen-St. John's race. The race is to be rowed at Madison either June 2 or 4. The only hitch in the proceedings is the length of the course. The Wisconsin people want to row the two miles, while the "Hercules" crew of St. John's is training for a mile race. St. John's today has probably the fastest prep school crew outside of Canada, but as it is the only school west of the mountains which supports a crew, no competition can be had except with the university. The naval committee has been trying to arrange a race with either the Duluth Rowing association, or with the Delawareans of Chicago, but nothing has come of it. A number of non-crew men and some substitutes of the ball team will meet Carroll college of Waukesha in a field meet next Saturday at Waukesha.

Regular training for the annual "Kemper-Dekoven" meet, June 9, goes steadily on. The "Bloodgood" medal will be won only after a struggle this year. Four silver cups will also be given as prizes. In practice Saturday, Wright jumped 21 feet, 3 in., and immediately after put the shot 44

DECIDES ILLINOIS LAND CASE

United States Supreme Court Rules Title Does Not Hold Under Water.

Washington, May 19.—The United States Supreme court in the case of Gertrude H. Hardin vs. Charles B. Shedd, involving title to land under water in Illinois, affirmed the decision of the Supreme court of Illinois in favor of Shedd.

The land in controversy in this case lies under Wolf lake, a nonnavigable body of water lying partly in Indiana. Hardin owns adjoining land, to which the title is claimed under patents from the United States, and under these same patents claim is made to land under the lake, which is in conflict with the claim of Shedd.

Justice Holmes said that according to the law of the state of Illinois conveyance of the upland does not carry adjoining land below the water line and thus decided the case in favor of Shedd.

Partial Abstainers.

A new temperance movement has been inaugurated by a London minister. The adherents to this movement will give a solemn undertaking never to take intoxicating drinks except at the midday and evening meals. There must be no nipping between meals, a practice that is condemned by doctors as the most mischievous of all alcoholic excesses.
